The User is fully responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of his/her login details and password. The User agrees not to use the name or login details of another person at any time, nor disclose the User's own login details to any other person.

4. Operation of the Payment Account

The sums transferred by Accepted Payment Methods by the User or any third party are credited to the Payment Account opened on behalf of the User.

The sums debited from the Payment Account result from

- (i) the execution of Payment Transactions;
- (ii) the collection by the Service Provider of any fees owed by the User under the website's General Terms and Conditions; or
- (iii) the reversal of a transaction made by a User by Accepted Payment Methods.

4.1 Registration of sums transferred by Accepted Payment Methods by the Users or any third party and credited to the Payment Account.

Payment by the User of funds into the Payment Account must be made by Accepted Payment Methods. When the User wishes to carry out such a transaction, the User must log in to the Website and enter the transfer order for the funds on a payment page dedicated for this purpose.

For any payment, the User may be asked to enter a single-use code notified to his/her mobile phone for the attention of the institution having issued the relevant Card. If and where appropriate, the Service Provider may refuse to process any Payment Transaction at its discretion and without this decision giving rise to any compensation to the User. Where possible, the Service Provider will provide the User with the reasons for refusing to process any Payment Transaction.

The transfer of funds by Card is executed by the institution having issued the Card. Any dispute surrounding such a transfer must be notified to the aforementioned institution. The Service Provider is not authorised to cancel such a transfer.

The User is informed that acceptance of a transfer order for payment by Accepted Payment Methods by the Service Provider does not guarantee that the User will receive the corresponding funds in his/her Account. The registration of funds into the User's Payment Account is conditioned upon actual receipt by the Service Provider of the funds collected minus the fees agreed in the Pricing Conditions.

4.2 Execution of Payment Transactions

The sterling sums credited to the Payment Account will be held in a specified client account held at the Bank, after the deduction of any fees payable by the User under this Framework Agreement.

Any payment instructions from the User that are received by the Service Provider will be deemed to have been received upon receipt of those instructions.

Where the receiving bank is located within the United Kingdom or another country in the European Economic Area, the payment will be credited to the payee's account by the end of the next business day following receipt of your payment instructions. Where payments are made to a receiving bank outside the European Economic Area, the Service Provider will provide an indication of when the payment should be received although the actual date of receipt will depend on banking practices in the relevant country.

Once a User has given an instruction for a Payment Transaction, the User may withdraw their consent to the execution of the relevant payment transaction at any time on the Business Day that the payment instruction was received by the Service Provider.

Payment Transactions will be executed in the currency notified to you before each relevant transaction takes place and your continuing with any Payment Transaction shall amount to your acceptance of the use of that currency.

5. Blocking of login details, Transaction dispute and Reporting

5.1 Blocking of login details

The Payment Account is accessible only via the Website with the same login details used for access to the personal Website account of each User. Therefore, the User must inform the Platform of the loss or theft of his/her login details, misappropriation or any unauthorised use of them or of his/her data without undue delay in order to request that the login details be blocked. The blocking request must be made in accordance with the General Terms and Conditions of the Website.

The Platform will execute the blocking request for the concerned login details to the Website in accordance with the Website's General Terms and Conditions. As the Payment Account is accessible only via the Website, the Account will not be reachable after the login details are blocked. The Platform will inform the Service Provider without undue delay about the blocking of the login details for the Website.

The Service Provider is entitled to immediately suspend or withdraw your right to make Payment Transactions from Your Payment Account where we have reasonable grounds to believe that there may be a breach in the security of Your account details, we suspect the unauthorised or fraudulent use of Your account details, or due to European or national law applying to us. Where the Service Provider decides to take this action, the Service Provider will write to You in advance informing You that the Service Provider intends to do so and the reasons for these actions other than where this is not possible, in which case the Service Provider will inform you at the earliest opportunity after and in any event within the time that you would expect a Payment Transaction to take place. The Service Provider will not inform you where this would compromise the Service Provider's reasonable security measures or is otherwise contrary to any applicable law, rule or regulation. Where the reasons for the Service Provider's actions then cease to exist, the Service Provider will then either reinstate Your access to Your Account or issue you with new account details as soon as practicable.

The Service Provider and the Platform shall not be held liable for any consequences arising from blocking by fax or e-mail which was not sent by the User.

5.2 Disputing a Transaction

For any complaint relating to the Payment Transactions executed by the Service Provider as part of this Framework Agreement, the User is advised to contact the Platform's customer service team by telephone or by post using the address indicated for this purpose in the Website's General Terms and Conditions.

If a Payment Transaction is executed by the Service Provider with errors due to its fault, the Payment Transaction will be cancelled and the Account will be restored to its situation prior to execution of the Payment Transaction. The Payment Transaction will then be executed again correctly.

The User who wishes to dispute a transaction unauthorised by him/her must contact the Platform's customer service by telephone without undue delay following his/her becoming aware of the anomaly and no later than 13 months following the date of the relevant transaction. The Platform is responsible for transmitting the dispute to the Service Provider without undue delay. After validation of the legitimacy of the request transmitted by the Platform to the Service Provider, the Service Provider will cancel the transaction and apply a temporary credit to the Account in order to restore it to the state in which it would have been if the disputed transaction had not been carried out. After an investigation into the validity of the dispute, the Service Provider will consequently adjust the Account and is authorised to reverse any Account entry that has been unduly made.

Provided you have not acted fraudulently, or with intent or gross negligence failed to use your Payment Account in accordance with the Framework Agreement, where an unauthorised payment transaction is made from your account you will be liable up to a maximum of [£50.00] for any losses incurred as a result of unauthorised payment transactions arising:

- (1) from the use of your account details when these have been lost or stolen; or
- (2) where you have failed to keep your Payment Account details safe.

Except where you have acted fraudulently, you will not be liable for any losses incurred in respect of unauthorised Payment Transactions:

- (1) arising after you have notified us of the loss, theft, misuse, misappropriation or unauthorised use of your account details; or
- (2) where we have failed to provide you with the appropriate means to notify us (unless this is due to abnormal and unforeseen circumstances beyond our control or as a result of our compliance European or national law); or
- (3) where your account details have been used in connection with certain types of distance contract.

The User will be liable for all losses incurred in respect of an unauthorised payment transaction where the User:

- (1) has acted fraudulently; or
- (2) with intent or gross negligence has failed to comply with the terms of the Framework Agreement (including in relation to notifying the Service Provider of the loss, theft, misappropriation or unauthorised use of the payment instrument).

The fees indicated in the Pricing Conditions may be collected in the case of an unjustified dispute of a Payment Transaction.

5.3 Reporting

The User may access, at any time, his/her personal page on the Website, showing the amount of money credited to his/her Account.

The User will be able to consult on his/her personal page on the Website for a statement of Payment Transactions made from the Account. He/she is invited to carefully study the list of these Payment Transactions.

The Service Provider shall make available to the User, upon written request, a monthly Account statement covering the previous thirteen (13) months.

6. Amendment of the Framework Agreement

The Service Provider reserves the right, at any time, to amend the Framework Agreement upon giving You at least two months' notice before the date on which the amendments are to take effect. However this notice period only applies where you are a 'consumer', a 'micro-enterprise' or a charity. A 'micro-enterprise' is a business which employs fewer than 10 people and has a turnover or balance sheet that does not exceed €2 million. If You are not a consumer, a charity or a micro-enterprise then You hereby agree that the Service Provider has the right to amend the Framework Agreement with 1 month notice and that such amendments shall be binding upon you immediately on such notice to you. If You do not agree to any such amendments, in either case, You have the right to terminate this Framework Agreement immediately without any charge before the amendments are to enter into force. If you have any queries about this clause please contact us.

Any User may refuse the amendments proposed and must notify the Platform's customer service of the refusal by written notice prior to the amendments coming into force. This notice of refusal will be communicated to the Service Provider by the Platform.

In case of a refusal of the amendments by the User, this refusal will result in the termination of the Framework Agreement, at no cost, and in the transfer of the money held in the Payment Account to the bank account of the User.

If the User does not notify the Service provider to refuse the amendments, the User will be deemed to accept the proposed amendments and the relationship between the Service

Provider and the User shall be governed by the new version of the Framework Agreement.

It is therefore important that the User reads his/her e-mails and regularly reads the Framework Agreement available on the Website at any time.
